THE ASSAULT ON SIMCOX.

Charles Gathooley Held to Answer at Court.

Chester, Oct. 15 .- Charles Gilhooley, who was arrested on suspicion of having made the murderous attack upon aged John H. Simcox, who was found in the back yard of the residence of Mrs. Hardy, at Front and Booth streets, on the morning of September 16 last, was postively identified today at a hearing held before Justice Carter, of South Chester. Simcox said that he had been at the Hardy house all the afternoon and evening drinking He then left, and in company with Gilhooley visited several saloons, About 11 o'clock he and Gilhooley returned to the Hardy house, where besides a number of men, was Miss Mame Quinn, a visitor from Philadelphia. "I asked for Mrs. Hardy," said Simcox, "and was told she had retired. In walking across the room I accidently trod on Miss Quinn's foot." Simcox then said, and was corroborated by other witnesses, that Gilhooley started up with an eath and charged him with insulting the woman. He also threatened to "do him," and in the quarrel which ensued Gilbooley struck the old man in the right eye, knocking him

When Simcox regained his senses he said he found himself in the back yard, with someone holding his mouth and chin as though to prevent an outcry, and a dull knife sawing at his throat, "I recognized Charles Gilhooley," he continued, "as the man who was cutting my throat." Simcox lay for six ours where he had failen, bleeding from the wound. Chief of Police Eck promptly arrested all in the Hardy to him, and later Gilhooley was picked up on the street. Simcox was taken the Chester hospital, and was unable to speak or tell who his assailant was. Gilhooley was held in $500 ball for court by Justice Carter, and in default was taken back to jail.

THE OLDEST OLD MAID.

Miss Mary Ann Crothers, Aged 104 Years, Claims the Championship. Philadelphia, Oct. 15.-Miss Mary Ann Crothers is more than 104 years old, and she objects to having other people wearing honors which she says rightfully belong to her. She is not at all backward in claiming the honor of being the 'oldest old maid' living. This honor has been claimed recently by several aged women, the oldest of whom had seen 101 winters and summers, and Miss Crothers' championship claim is due entirely to this discussion.

"Aunty Crothers," as she is affectionately called by all those who know her was born in County Derry, Ireland, on the 27th of August, 1793. The entire family was remarkable for its longevity. Her father died at the age of 92 her mother at the age of $5 years. She had a brother, William, the father of Samuel Crothers, present member of the State Legislature from the Twentysixth district, who also attained a ripe old age. When Miss Crothers was 40 years old she came to America and lived for a number of years in this city. She then moved to Omaha, Neb., with the family of Dr. Meredith, returning to Philadelphia in 1842, and has lived here ever since. She resides with the family of Thomas Austin, a nephew, where, since the death of Mrs. Austin, nineteen years ago, she has taken a motherly interest in her three grand-

DEATH POSTPONED.

The Secret to Perpetual Life About To Be Discovered.

The celebrated Dr. Virchow, of Berlin, recently stated his belief that the secret of all diseases is about to be discovered. He believes that all disease germs can be destroyed, leaving human ife free to continue indefinitely. That it is minute organisms that cause disease; that they can be destroyed; and, when destroyed, there will be no disease, and people will continue to live if not always, at least to attain great age, like the fabled Antediluvians. In the meantime, however, we have the disease germs to cope with the best way we can. They attack us morning, noon and night. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink and the food we eat. The only thing we can do to protect ourselves is to fortify the system against them. The strengthening effect of Pe-ru-na is a reliable bill in equity of Architect James H. protection. The disease germs can not Warner to compel the commission to exist in the system when Pe-ru-na is taken. It is a perfect remedy for all low, weak states of the system, and If the mucous membranes are healthy the disease germs can not enter the system. Pe-ru-na produces clean, healthy, normal mucous membranes. Send for Dr. Hartman's latest book on chronic malaria. Address The Peru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohlo.
